Janna for adding additional produce which continues the opportunity to stay connected to our community and committee. Jonathan shares that we are all suffering two pandemics as a world, and that far too long, the Black community has been marginalized in a male patriarchic society for 401 years and with COVID, we remain resilient and lean on our ancestors and ask others to step up.

Joi – Thanks to Janna for her support that the food is reaching so many people. Joi thanks Saeeda and Lauren for school nutrition to our SFUSD families and students. She also thanks Jonathan and Roberto for their community food distribution efforts as well. Joi shares her being proud to be at the SDDTAC table, where the committee holds the community at the forefront of its recommendations.

Linda – shares that Recreation and Park Department (RPD) had a 3 day turnaround to have recreation centers as childcare facilities for essential workers and disaster service workers. RPD has begun its summer programs of 30 different day camps.

Derik – thanks SFUSD for all their work in distributing thousands of meals and the logistics it took to provide for students and their families. He also thanks DPH for Family Resource Centers being able to provide EAT SF vouchers.

Janna – is deeply honored to do this work right now. The work of the SDDTAC and to see how the soda tax funds are being used and how she sees it as reparations and an attempt to dismantle white supremacy in our food system. Thanks to DPH for getting disseminating funds and giving priority to those in need.

Public comment:

Misa Peron Burdick, physician at ZSFG. She started food pantry when patients would come for their medical appointments. Currently there are 10 clinics and 50 patient deliveries. Partnering with One Love – outreach to Black families and providing bountiful gift of produce which supports and builds trust with community, the need is not going away and hope to see it continued in the future. Thank you to Recreation and Parks department for childcare.

Cissie Bonini, EAT SF – Clinics and housing sites continue to reach out for assistance. EAT SF has received support from DPH to provide 100,000 vouchers within 8 weeks, vouchers are good for fruits and vegetables. The focus is on pregnant people, Black and Latinx families, and families with children ages 0-5. Eat SF works with the Black Infant Health program and with smaller vendors in the Tenderloin and Mission neighborhoods.

Mariana Carvanza, Health Right 360 is currently receiving funds from the Wholesale Produce Market and works with Janna. They have been receiving Aracdia's food distribution and is sent to clinics. The support has definitely been very helpful in addressing food insecurity. The patients and community are very Currently they have fed 100 families through the co-op.

AHA has sent request to the Board of Supervisors to support the state in repealing and pushing the preemption on soda tax further. Blythe requests that SDDTAC offer a letter to the state for our state government relations.

6. Mission High School Presentation – [Discussion and Possible Action]

Mark D'Aquisto, Mission High School, thanks committee for support to SF Unified School District. He is saddened that the students are not able to present the Be Well/Mission Water Project to the committee. The Soda Tax funds have been used to support stipends for students. The Be Well/Mission Water Project stems from Mission High School's Urban Agriculture Pathway program. It is moving towards a project based format for the Capstone project for seniors, which teaches them to be leaders in their community. They partnered with John O'Connell High School students, who conducted surveys and learned about various aspects of beverages and partnership. Students were learning how to educate about water and the impact of sugary beverages and would have been presenting to elementary schools. Students conducted a survey and resulted in overwhelming love of drinking cold water or spa water (with cucumber). They are looking for ways to have another water station in the cafeteria.

Two students continued the projects and made a slideshow and video for elementary kids about the harmful effects of SSB and how to read nutrition labels. Mark shared that a student, who had difficulties in reading and writing, took on the project and successfully accomplished a lot with this project. Mark shared that it is exciting to see children lead this type of work and by providing youth with choices, you begin to see students stepping up. Saeeda shared that the kids can help go out to the community, where it is homegrown and connect to their community members, where they are seen in a different kind of light and engages with the community.

Mark shares that the student nutrition services help to support kids who have made sandwiches and sold them. He shared that peer to peer education is more impactful and eye opening for teachers.

Roberto thanks Mark for his work and dedication. He offers the opportunity to work together and support opportunities to pay students for the work they are doing.

Health education, food security, physical activity
CBOs working with SFUSD	7% of all CBO funding (eg 7% of approximately $4.3 million) should go towards CBOs implementing programs/initiatives that take place in school settings. Funding to issue grants to CBOS should follow the guidelines above.
Media	Funds to CBOs to support media and communications that include 1) grassroots, community driven awareness campaigns about the intent of the SDDT and the impact of the allocated funds; 2) city-wide communications campaign highlighting the impact and importance of the SDDT; and 3) communications materials for merchants. This may be implemented via CBO's and/or private media firms. Examples include community-driven messaging, print, online, and social media campaigns.
Community engagement	Community engagement activities (ex. community conveners, focus groups, town halls, attending existing community meetings, etc.) to ensure that meaningful community engagement opportunities are fully integrated throughout the work of the SDDTAC, so that impacted populations can inform the decisions of the full committee.
Capacity Building Grants	Provide one time capacity building grants as SFDPH/CHEP did in FY2019-2020; to support non profit organizations providing chronic disease prevention programs and services with operations, training, equipment, consultants, etc.
SFUSD
School Food, Nutrition Ed	To improve the quality and appeal of school meals and support nutrition education to increase participation in school meal programs (for example: cooking and serving equipment, staff professional development, and innovative procurement and menu strategies to increase freshly prepared food).
