Explanation of Service:

The Dental Transformation Initiative (DTI) is a Medi-Cal Waiver 2020 project by the California Department of Health Care Services (DHCS) that provides the San Francisco Department of Public Health (DPH) funding through 2020 to test five innovative pilots to improve access to dental care for Denti-Cal insured children ages 0 to 5. The five pilots include: 1) a six day Collaborative series for San Francisco dental practices to receive support in innovating their practices (including service offerings, billing practices, and appointment access) to better serve children ages 0 to 5; 2) health workers working in DPH and the SF Unified School District (SFUSD) care coordinating children into dental appointments and follow up care; 3) three local task forces will conduct focus groups to identify culturally informed strategies and messaging to better convey the importance of early and preventative dental care to caregivers of young children; 4) technical assistance will be provided to help local primary care and dental practices better integrate their referral systems and update billing practices to account for newly reimbursable services; and 5) eight local FQHC's that offer co-located primary care and dental services to children ages 0 to 5 will receive financial incentives for meeting improvement targets in the number of their primary care patients that attend dental appointments within the year.

The UCSF School of Dentistry was a partner during the funding application for the DTI project and this work was included in the DHCS DTI application budget along with a one page sole source justification for the selection of UCSF. Specifically, UCSF has a long history of working with DPH and the SFUSD on a 15-year project to provide dental screenings to SFUSD kindergarteners annually and report on racial disparities in oral health San Francisco. UCSF will fill three roles in the DTI project. The largest component of this contract and the budget includes partial FTE's for four positions to provide the data Monitoring and Reporting Core of the DTI work. In addition to this work that will touch all pilots, a senior UCSF School of Dentistry faculty member will provide young children's dental care consulting for the Pilot 1 Collaborative series that will support local dental practices. In addition, Pilot 4's Integration Technical Assistance work is supported by a UCSF MD who is a dual expert in both pediatrics and preventative and restorative dental sciences.

An additional stream of State funding for oral health innovations in San Francisco has recently been awarded from California Prop 56 funds. These Prop 56 funds extend 4.5 years and will be used in part to support the coordination work of a UCSF faculty member to extend the work of CavityFree SF.

CavityFree SF Collaborative has been jointly led by UCSF and DPH since its inception in 2013. The faculty lead funded on this contract has been one of the co-leads along with DPH since its pre-conception phase when the San Francisco Health Improvement Partnership (SF HIP – formerly a UCSF initiative) identified that children's oral health needed to be addressed in SF through a university-community collaboration. This partnership led to the development of the first ever children's oral health strategic plan in 2014, and has continued to co-lead the implementation of the strategic plan to date. Over the past 4 years, the collaborative's work has flourished under this leadership, and the plan is to continue implementation with this experienced core team as the driving force moving forward the collaborative and the workgroups.
