Commissioner Comments:

Commissioner Loyce asked for clarification regarding the responsible party for issues related to the building of a restaurant such as cracks in the wall or ceiling. Ms. Freschet stated that the restaurant owner is responsible for having these types of issues fixed.

Commissioner Chung asked if the public has access to the last Environment Health inspection of a restaurant or food truck. Ms. Freschet stated that the SFDPH websites shows the scores of the last inspection.

Commissioner Chung asked for more information regarding the revocation of permits. Ms. Freschet stated that a temporary suspension is more often used so Environment Health staff can work with the business owner to remediate issues.

Commissioner Chung asked for more information regarding the new placard rating system, which will be put into place in the near future. Ms. Freschet stated that the placard rating system will focus on 5 areas of food safety and the placards will be publicly displayed.

Commissioner Chung asked if San Francisco allows entrepreneurs to prepare food at home. Mr. Fosdahl stated that there is a state law that allows local jurisdictions to pass legislation to allow home preparation of food. However, San Francisco has not passed legislation to allow this due to concerns regarding food safety, ADA access issues, and issues with residential leases.
